

Senior Electronics Technician

- Full Product Training
- Electronic Products – Analog and Digital
- Great company culture with unmatched retention

Amber Technology, an Australian ASX listed Company, is a leading distributor of audio-visual solutions for installation projects in Australia and New Zealand, for specialist communications segments including professional broadcast, media and communications, live sound and production, music instruments and sound recording, residential and commercial installations, and home entertainment. AmberTech is highly regarded in the industry that it has successfully served for many years and is emerging as an Australian market leader in the newest technologies in this specialised domain. The business is growing both organically and in need of a competent service technician.

In your new role, you will provide technical repair and support of high-end electronic equipment, often to component level. Most of the equipment is from the company's impressive array of Consumer and Professional A/V equipment that is sold throughout Australasia. The equipment includes amplifiers, receivers, speakers and woofers, projectors and high-end projection systems, smart TVs. The role also necessitates testing of new products, liaising with your manager for product suitability and improvements. You will also provide diagnosis and analysis of product performance and compatibility and work closely with your Customer Support Team in providing technical support information to direct customers and distributors.

You will have a high energy level with passion and enthusiasm for cutting-edge audio-visual products and solutions. You will have technical qualifications in Electronics and Communications at Trade or TAFE level as a minimum as well as some good identifiable experience in the repair and technical support of electronic, audio/visual or 'HIFI' equipment. Superior problems solving skills are sought and will enable you to progress well in this growing company, as too are admin and multitasking attributes. Importantly, solid and responsive customer service skills are requisite.

The Company has an excellent culture and great working environment plus competitive salary and onsite parking.

Please call Phil Holey on 02 9904 4414 or 0412 311 107 - and email your CV in MICROSOFT WORD together with a covering letter indicating your matching skills. Email both as Word docs to jobs@interlogic.com.au Quote 9289